

CONSTITUTIONAL REFORM PROCESSES AND INTEGRATION IN EAST AFRICA

Edited by
Johannes Döveling, Kennedy Gastorn and Ulrike Wanitzek

Dar es Salaam University Press
2013

CONTENTS

Johannes Döveling, Kennedy Gastorn and Ulrike Wanitzek Preface.....	ix
Acknowledgments.....	xvii
Kennedy Gastorn Constitutional Reform Processes and Integration in East Africa: Introduction	1
Josaphat Laurean Kanywanyi Open-ended Features in Constitutionalism and Cultural Attitudes in East Africa: Basis for Prevalence of Corruption, Poor Public Servant Responsibility, Accountability and Public Services Delivery?	9
James Ogoola Where Treaty Law Meets Constitutional Law: National Constitutions in the Light of the EAC Treaty.....	49
Gamaliel Mgongo Fimbo Principles and Practices of Management in the East African Community: Best Practices for a Modern Judiciary	65
Damian Z. Lubwa The Independence of the National Electoral Commission of Tanzania as an Oversight Constitutional Organ.....	89
Gamaliel Mgongo Fimbo The National Electoral Commission of Tanzania in Support of Constitutional Democracy: A Comment	105
Bonaventure Rutimwa Constitutionalising Citizenship in Tanzania: Lessons from Other East African Jurisdictions.....	117

Hamudi Ismail Majamba

Environmental Protection within the Framework of the East African Community: Lessons for Constitutional Reform in Tanzania..... 137

Christian Roschmann, Peter Wendoh and Steve Ogolla

Kenya's Constitutional Review Experience and Lessons to Be Learned for the Constitution-making Process in Tanzania..... 155

University of Dar es Salaam School of Law

Proposals Submitted to the Constitutional Review Commission of Tanzania: Executive Summary 183

About the Authors and Editors 211